

Dorminal

Veterinarians and nurses choose their profession because they want to help animals. But throughout their careers there are those times when a pet owner must make the heart-wrenching decision to euthanize their pet. Veterinarians are there to help steer them through the process. Veterinarians are focused on keeping your pet pain free in hopes of reducing fear and anxiety for both pet and the pet owner. Choosing a high quality product is imperative.

Why does Dorminal stand out amongst similar type products?

- Pre-dyed blue for easy identification
- Low viscosity for easy administration
- Plastic bottle prevents shattering
- Comparable or lower cost than other similar product

Dosage and Administration:

Administer to effect by intravenous, intracardiac, intraperitoneal or intrapulmonary injection. (Intravenous injection is the preferred method).

AVP	2339907
CDMV	104541
VPCL	6600360
WDDC	112437